The Product is designed for the market segment defined above, which is likely to include some customers with characteristics of vulnerability or who will experience vulnerability over time.

We consider the needs, characteristics, and objectives of customers with characteristics of vulnerability at all stages of the design process and have tested the Product to assess whether it will meet the identified needs, characteristics, and objectives of the target market, including customers in the target market who have characteristics of vulnerability.

Specifically, for this product we have noted:

- Where an applicant takes a variable rate product, they may be more susceptible to the challenges of a higher rate and payment should the variable rate change.

- Where an applicant takes a product that is for the whole term of the mortgage, they are susceptible to inertia and not regularly reviewing their mortgage.
- Remortgaging with additional capital raising may be indicative of issues managing outgoings or debt. The desire to release capital to service debt or everyday expenditure may lead to harms around choice of product and erosion of equity.

We have in place a framework to achieve good outcomes for vulnerable customers, which includes:

- Education and training for our staff to ensure they have the appropriate skills and experience to recognise and respond to the needs of vulnerable customers.
- Suitable customer service provision and communications.
- Flexible policies, where appropriate, to support vulnerable members
- Monitoring to ensure we continue to meet and respond to the needs of customers with characteristics of vulnerability.

Intermediaries should continue to comply with your obligations to ensure that you treat customers in vulnerable circumstances fairly.

Please contact us if you need any further information about how we support the needs of all our customers in relation to the Product.
